

The Importance of an Educated Workforce to New Hampshire's Future

A Discussion and Briefing on

Aligning Employer Needs with Higher Education

Wednesday, February 15, 2012

4:00 pm to 6:00 pm
Holiday Inn – Webster Room
Concord, NH

Please join Stephen J. Rose, a Research Professor at the Georgetown University Center on Education and the Workforce, for a presentation and discussion on the important interactions between developing a high skilled workforce and a state's economy.

Dr. Rose is a nationally recognized labor economist who co-authored Education for What, which formulated new categories to better understand the development of the high-skilled service sector with its burgeoning reliance on higher education as a requirement for entry.

State Senator Nancy Stiles

Chair of the Senate Education Committee will moderate the presentation and discussion

Who should attend: Business, Legislative and Education Leaders interested in discussing how best to meet the workforce needs of New Hampshire in the 21st century

RSVP to confirm your attendance to Brenda Perry.
Click here parking and directions

This event sponsored by:

